FASTEN-THROUGH PANELS

Fasten-through panels are manufactured to your exact lengths at HPM's production facility in Keaau on Hawaii Island and delivered to your jobsite. They're fastened with exposed color-matched screws that penetrate the metal roofing and secure to the purlin or sheathing.

STANDING SEAM PANELS

HPM manufactures the standing seam right on your jobsite using a portable roll-former.

Standing seam panels are fastened using screws or concealed clips and the ribs are engaged by either snapping together or mechanically seaming.

Curved panels are available to match unique architectural designs. Photovoltaic solar panels can easily be installed on standing seam roofing using clips instead of penetrating screws.
